Description/Duties: Work one-on-one with an elementary student for one hour at a time. There are two one-hour sessions per night, four days a week (opportunity to volunteer up to 8 hours per week). Medical students help the children with reading, comprehension sheets, activities, and journal writing. There are two instructors on-site that can assist medical students in developing good teaching skills. There is also the opportunity to develop a long-lasting mentor-student relationship with the students since you are paired together for the year. Medical students should be able to make either a semester or year-long commitment to tutor at least one hour per week.

Commitment: Monday Thru Thursday between 4:30-5:30 or 5:30-6:30

Activities for Medical Students: Tutoring children
