FROM YOUR DIO

Congratulations to all graduating residents! Regardless if they join clinical practices, fellowships, other residency programs, or pursuing academic careers, they embody the full meaning of being a “doctor”. The word doctor comes from the Latin “docere”: to teach. Whether they are taking the time to explain concepts to medical students or residents, a patient or their family members, or a colleague, they will always remain being challenged to learn themselves and deepen their own understanding. We hope that they keep in touch and wish them luck in continuing their successful careers.

At the same time we will also welcome our new 55 residents! At the residents’ orientation, they will be introduced to the variety of educational and scholarly resources available at Wayne State University and all partnering hospitals. They will be also exposed to the principles of graduate medical education, focused on outcomes and driven by competency-based methods. The clinical learning environments they will function in, will shape their future practice and patient outcomes in quality improvement, patient safety, disparity and teamwork. We understand that this time is equally stressful for their families: many are coming from different areas of the United States or the world, and we are well equipped to offer assistance.

The residency programs are also going through intense planning for the next academic year. Faculty, residents, and staff are meeting to review educational outcomes, evaluations, feedback surveys and patient care data to assess program effectiveness. The Program Evaluation Committees are formulating SMART goals to drive the process for continuous program improvement. The GME office is an integral part of this process and will continue to lead institution-wide projects and guide individual programs to assure goals are met.

Looking forward to the next academic year!

ACGME Milestone Reporting

Each program is in the process of entering their milestone evaluations into the ACGME website. The residency programs are required to do this twice each academic year - after the mid-year reviews and at the end of the year. The current deadline for entering the milestone data for this year is June 24, 2016.

Onboarding

We have been enjoying getting to know the incoming residents through the onboarding process. The New Innovations checklist has made it easier to keep track of all of the required information being submitted and makes the HR process easier for the GME office and the new residents.

New Resident Orientation

New Resident GME Orientation will take place in the Margherio Conference Center located at Scott Hall on Tuesday, June 28, 2016. After the Orientation we will have a gathering at Traffic Jam as an opportunity for the current residents to meet the new residents. The gathering will start at 4:30 p.m. and all current residents are invited to attend.

Want to access full-text articles through PubMed more quickly? Use our PubMed@Wayne portal at: http://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pubmed?otool=waynelib. When you access PubMed through this portal, PubMed will recognize that you are arriving through the Wayne State University library system and will provide direct links to full-text articles available through WSU library subscriptions. Simply perform a search, select an article, and then click the "360 Link to Full Text" icon in the upper-right hand corner. If you are off campus, you may be asked to enter your WSU access ID (e.g., ab1234) and password, and then you should have immediate access to the article. Bookmark the PubMed@Wayne URL for quick access! If you run into any problems, send an email to askmed@wayne.edu.

Residency Career Fair

The Residency Career Fair was held on Tuesday, June 7, 2016 at Wayne State University Scott Hall Cafeteria. Pictured left to right, Dr. Pauline Zhang, Family Medicine, Dr. Marie Burke, Transitional Year, and Dr. Eleanor Rose King, Family Medicine were just some of the Residents there to recruit and answer questions to medical students.
Congratulations to our graduating residents! We are so proud of you!! In the year(s) you have been with us, you have displayed your exceptional drive to learn & discover as well as inspire your fellow residents. Our GME office was very happy to be a part of your educational journey.
